Levels

Placement test on Monday the 1st of July, 2024

At the beginning of each session students must complete a short test designed to determine their current level of French. Students will then be divided into groups, which are based on the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR). Any student who is absent on the day of the placement test will only be accepted if their corresponding group is not full.

A1 – Breakthrough/Beginner level

Students will learn about the language and how to communicate in everyday situations.

A2 – Way stage or elementary level Reinforcement and practise of everyday French, spoken and written.

B1 – Threshold or intermediate level

Continuation of language learning through an intensive study of French culture and society.

B2 – Advanced or independent level

For students who display a certain level of proficiency in their use of French. At this level students will review and expand upon current knowledge, while learning new aspects to ensure a degree of fluency in written and oral communication.

C1 – Mastery level (for autonomous users)

For students with a very advanced level of French, in-depth study of grammatical concepts, working towards understanding different registers through the study of authentic oral and written documents, and improvement of written expression. Exploration of the links between language, culture and civilisation.

Oral expression is constantly developed through various learning activities (conversation, role playing, etc.); written expression is also a key focus, developed using a variety of techniques.

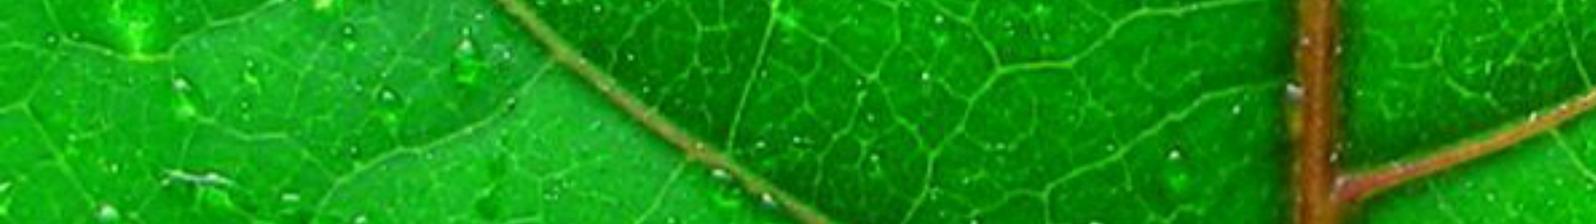

Authentic documents (videos, songs, posters, ads, etc.) are used to improve written and oral comprehension.

The IEFE reserves the right not to open a group of a certain level if a minimum of 10 students isn't reached.
